featuring Lucy Landymore on Vibraphone & Percussion

EXCITING AND HEALING MUSIC FOR VIOLIN, VIBRAPHONE AND PERCUSSION BY MOZART, BEETHOVEN, IGUDESMAN & LANDYMORE.

Acclaimed violinist and versatile composer Aleksey Igudesman, known for his duo Igudesman & Joo, as well as his numerous soundtrack collaborations with Hans Zimmer, has invited the brilliantly talented multi percussionist and composer Lucy Landymore to join him on a thrilling adventure on stage.

The blend of violin and vibraphone is truly magical, which can be experienced in Igudesman's unique arrangements of the music of Mozart and Beethoven.

However, when Landymore joins Igudesman in his popular solo violin pieces „Si Señor“ and „Funk the String,“ it just oozes with virtuosity with the Latin beats of her congas and bongos providing the groove for his music.

In Landymore's numerous trips to Latin America, she has deepened her knowledge of rhythms and grooves. Salsa and Samba can often be heard and felt in her own music. In addition, Lucy Landymore has composed a series of breathtakingly beautiful „Healing Pieces“ for vibraphone, intended for meditation as well as relaxation of the mind and body.

The contrast of the virtuosic and meditative character of their two compositions mixed with aspects of classical repertoire and world music make this concert experience truly unique and unforgettable.

And as always with Igudesman, humor plays a central role, tickling the audience's endorphins throughout the performance.
