Movement

In Movement, violinist and composer Aleksey Igudesman invites selected musicians from The Limitless Ensemble to explore the deep and playful relationship between music and motion.

This vibrant program celebrates the art of movement—on stage, in sound, and within the imagination.

Featuring selected works and arrangements by Igudesman, the performance brings together infectious rhythms, theatrical flair, and moments of unexpected beauty. The music dances – sometimes literally – drawing from traditions old and new, while always pointing toward the limitless possibilities of live performance.

Movement is not a fixed concert. It's a tailor-made experience, thoughtfully curated for each festival, concert series, or venue.

With choreography woven into the music and a spirit that invites spontaneity, Movement offers a fresh perspective on what a classical performance can be—alive, expressive, unique and constantly in motion.

Whether a duo or a full string ensemble with piano, each performance is custom-shaped to fit the space, spirit, and vision of the presenter.
